

5

Five Dollars

James A. Baker III

Secretary of the Treasury

Rona E. Summers

Treasurer of The United States

Hedy Lamarr
American Actress

United States of America
Federal Reserve Note

44 Hz 86 Hz 170 Hz 340 Hz 679 Hz 1.3 kHz 2.6 kHz 5.1 kHz 10.1 kHz

L91986303T 12
Series 2023 Washington DC G275

This Note Is Legal Tender
For All Debts, Public and Private

Hedy Lamarr was an American actress best known for inventing “frequency hopping” for torpedoes in 1941. Frequency Hopping is used to avoid interferenc/interception in transmissions and is the technology behind today’s WiFi, Bluetooth, and GPS.

5

Five Dollars

86 Hz 170 Hz 340 Hz 679 Hz 1.3 kHz 2.6 kHz 5.1 kHz 10.1 kHz 20 kHz

10

Ten Dollars

Marie Van Brittan Brown
American Nurse

James A. Baker III
Secretary of the Treasury

Kevin M. Conroy
Treasurer of The United States

United States of America
Federal Reserve Note

K00841903A 8
Series 2023 Washington DC J463

Marie Van Brittan Brown was an American nurse best know for the invention of the first home security system in 1966. Her system was the first closed-circuit television system (CCTV) and it is the predecessor to modern home systems today.

This Note Is Legal Tender
For All Debts, Public and Private

10

Ten Dollars

Flossie Wong-Staal
American Virologist

20

Twenty Dollars

Janet L. Yellen

Secretary of the Treasury

Kevin M. Conroy

Treasurer of The United States

United States of America
Federal Reserve Note

B03542754F
Series 2023

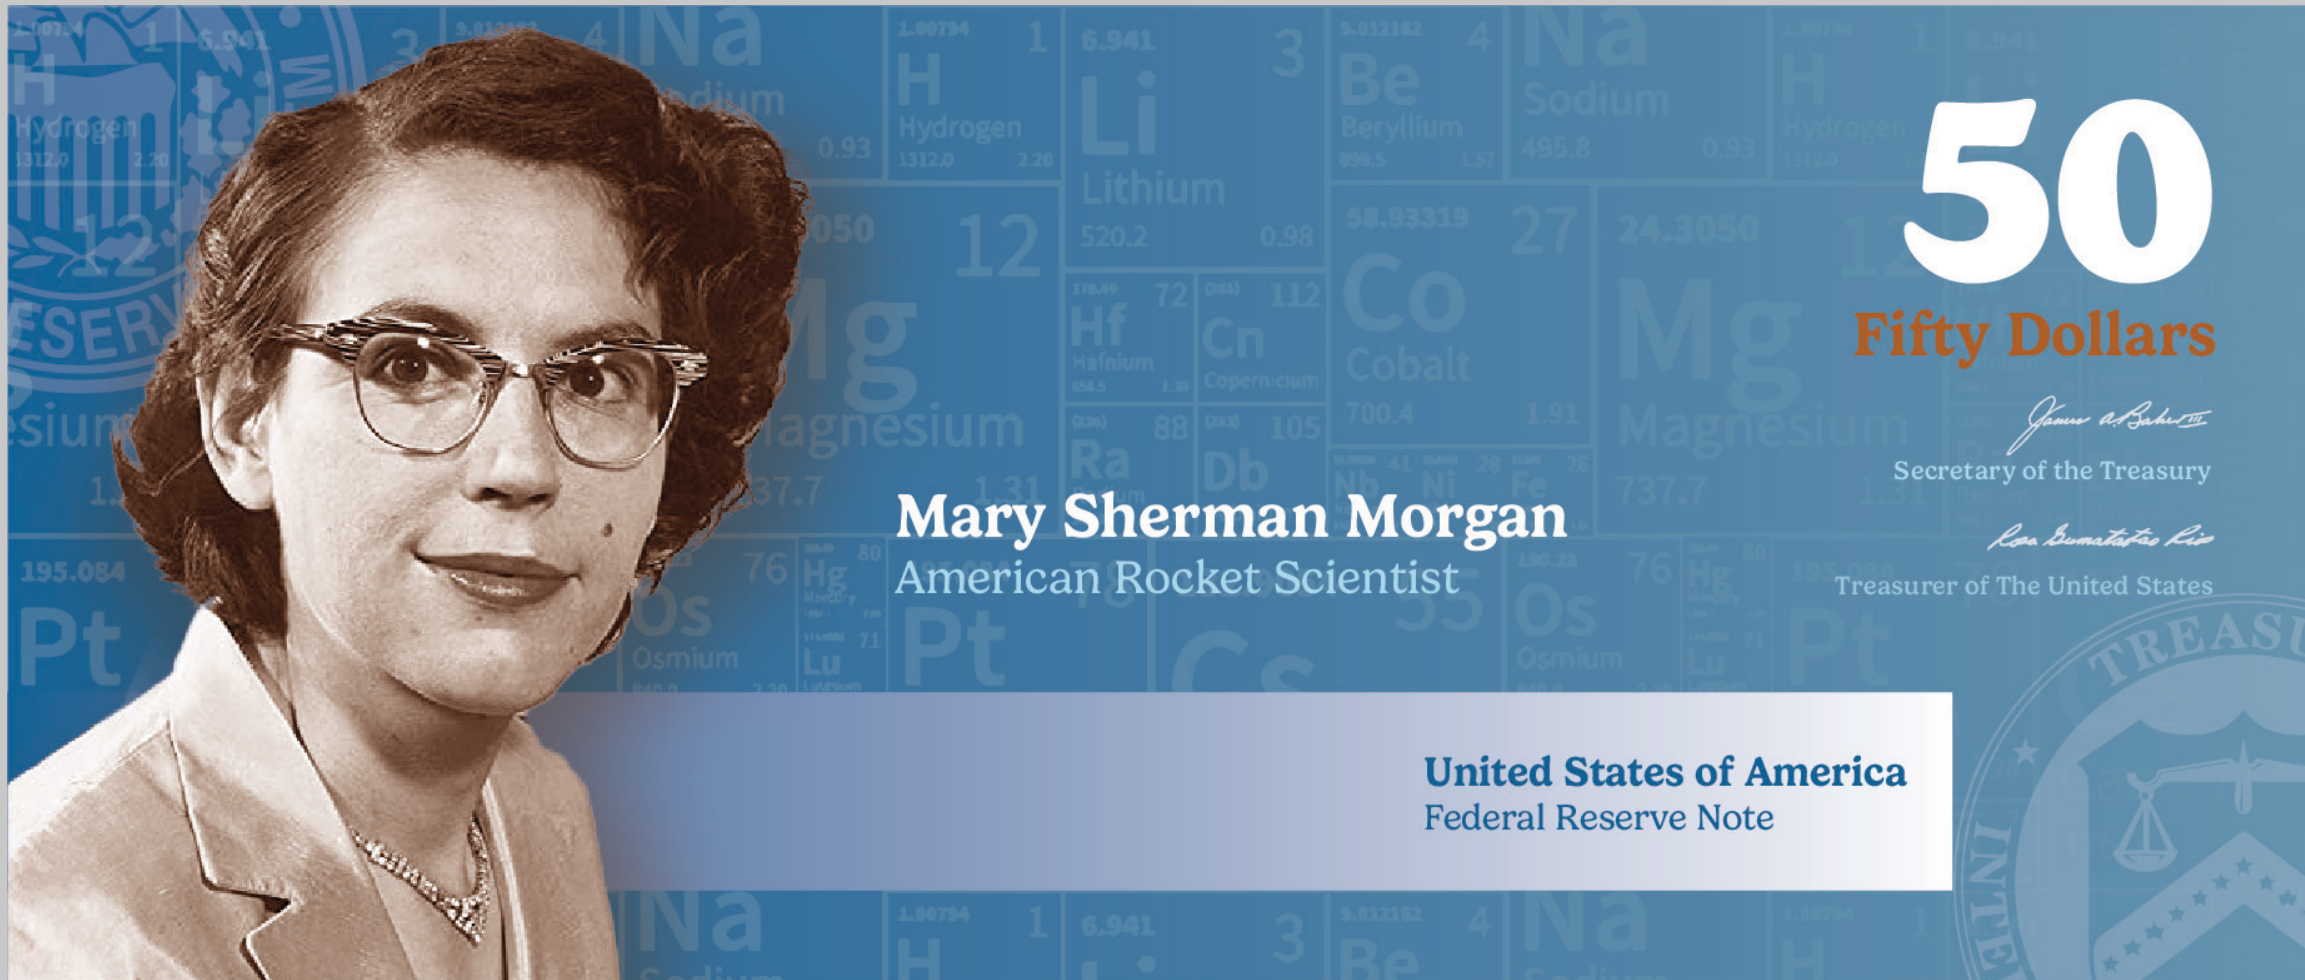

3
Washington DC E867

Flossie Wong-Staal was an American virologist best known for cloning the HIV virus in 1984. Her discovery determined the function of its genes, found the link between HIV and AIDS and led to the of creation of tests and treatments for the disease.

This Note Is Legal Tender
For All Debts, Public and Private

20

Twenty Dollars

50
Fifty Dollars

James A. Baker III

Secretary of the Treasury

Rosa Gumataotao Rios

Treasurer of the United States

Mary Sherman Morgan
American Rocket Scientist

United States of America
Federal Reserve Note

I720240195H 2
Series 2023 Washington DC I051

Mary Sherman Morgan was an American rocket fuel scientist best known for inventing the rocket fuel Hydyne in 1957. Hydyne enabled the launch of the Jupiter-C rocket which boosted the United States' first satellite, Explorer 1.

This Note Is Legal Tender
For All Debts, Public and Private

50
Fifty Dollars

Stephaine Kwolek
American Chemist

100
One Hundred Dollars

James A. Baker III
Secretary of the Treasury
Rona E. Summers
Treasurer of The United States

United States of America
Federal Reserve Note

A77863594B 9
Series 2023 Washington DC H743

Stephaine Kwolek was an organic chemist, best known for inventing Kevlar in 1965. Kevlar is an ultrastrong and ultrathick material known for its use in bulletproof vests.

100
One Hundred Dollars

This Note Is Legal Tender
For All Debts, Public and Private